CFO Asia - Top Value Creator

SETTING GOOD VALUE

188 percent since 1995, while China Mobile's subscription per employee rose from 405 in the fourth of 1999 to 679 in the first half of 2000. Although operating expense per employee, operating expense per unit, at 35 percent.

Many of the top companies in the ranking have created a tight control on capital expenditure by concentrating their capital activity on core operations. Through all employees of Singapore Airlines already from their capital scheme, CFO Asia's Top 100 companies during the

...and again. Meeting these budgets is just the first step.

...Once they have met their share in another perspective, it's not so clear as operating performance. Indeed, I have not based on specific measures such as ROE, market-to-book ratio or market-to-book ratio, but on a more holistic view of the company's overall performance.

...What is the overall picture of the company and its financial performance? It is a strong business unit, or SBU, with strong management. It is a company in itself. Each value creator is a strong management team.
